

COLUMBIAN WEDS IN ENTERPRISE.

The following account of the marriage of Lieutenant Arnold Burkett, of this city to Miss Ethel Buckley of Enterprise, appeared in the Sunday issue of the Meridian Dispatch:

Enterprise, Miss., June 28.—The marriage of Miss Ethel Buckley, lovely young daughter of Judge and Mrs. John L. Buckley, of Enterprise, to Lieutenant Arnold Burkett, of Columbus, Miss., was celebrated Wednesday, June 25, at their home in Enterprise, Rev. H. C. Joyner, the bride's pastor, officiating, in the presence of a large concourse of friends.

From the punch table the guests were escorted to the register, where Miss Alice Bonny presided. Those receiving were: Judge and Mrs. John Buckley, Mrs. John Tacket Buckley, Mrs. Bessie Moody, Mrs. C. T. Bonney and Mr. H. C. Dear.

As the guests assembled Mrs. M. W. Buckley, Jr., sang "At Dawning," by Cadman, with Mrs. O. C. Wainwright at the piano, who also rendered Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" as the party entered. Little Miss Rose Russell Wainwright came first with a white satin horse shoe, bearing the bride's and groom's rings, from which hung clusters of miniature daisies suspended by narrow pink ribbons of different lengths. The bride's ring was old English pattern, with green gold engravings, and the groom's was a plain old English band. The groom's sister, Mrs. Clarence Hackelman, of Columbus, was matron of honor.

The bride, with her father, entered the parlor through the dining-room, were met at an improvised altar by the minister.

The bride wore a tailored suit of liberty blue, with accessories in grey; her hat was made of rose leaves, with a single pink rose for trimming, and her flowers were pink roses tied with pink tulle.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Hackelman, wore a costume of white chiffon over white satin and carried pink roses tied with pink tulle.

Mrs. John Tacket Buckley, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a dress of taupe Georgette and satin, with overskirt and sash appliqued in dark grey satin. Mrs. O. C. Wainwright wore a lovely toilet of flesh-colored Georgette crepe with white bead trimming, as did Mrs. W. M. Buckley. Mrs. S. H. Andrews wore rose pink crepe de chine. Miss Alice Bonney's dress was dainty blue chiffon, and the bride's mother, Mrs. John Buckley, was at her best in a lovely costume of black crepe de chine, with skirt appliqued in black satin.

The decorations of Shasta daisies, white and pink roses, with potted plants, were cleverly and tastefully arranged throughout the house.

After the ceremony and congratulations refreshments were served in the dining-room. The table was laid with a lace cover, with the bride's cake in pink and white adorning the center. The cake was in the form of a basket of pink and white roses and from the handle were suspended six white bells with pearl centers.

The guest were served a two-tone ice course and later the out-of-town guests were served a buffet dinner, consisting of turkey sandwiches, chicken salad, pickles, olives and iced tea.
